Sandy Schueller Earns Certified Association Executive Credential

Association Resource Center (ARC) is pleased to announce that Sandy Schueller, ARC Executive, has earned the Certified Association Executive (CAE®) designation. The CAE Program elevates professional standards, enhances individual performance, and designates those who have acquired and demonstrated the knowledge essential to the practice of association management.

“It has been a true privilege to observe and be involved with Sandy’s continued growth and leadership within ARC. She consistently brings thoughtfulness, strategic insight, and steady expertise to every client engagement – from complex governance matters to day-to-day operations. Earning the CAE designation is a significant professional achievement, and it reflects the dedication and high standards she brings to her everyday work. This recognition is exceptionally well deserved,” said ARC Owner, Jennifer Rzepka, CAE.

To be designated as a Certified Association Executive, an applicant must have experience with nonprofit organization management, complete a minimum of 100 hours of specialized professional development, pass a stringent examination in association management, and pledge to uphold a code of ethics. To maintain the certification, individuals must undertake ongoing professional development and activities in association and nonprofit management. The CAE Program is accredited by the National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA).
